

John is Founder and Managing Partner of Cornell Global LLC, a Human Capital Strategy Consulting firm. Working with various sized companies across various industry sectors, John strives to drive increased company valuation through leadership development, talent acquisition and innovative people focused programs and processes. John's corporate career included progressively responsible positions with Price Waterhouse, Bankers Trust, E. F. Hutton, Chemical Bank and later G.E. Capital. Since leaving corporate, John has founded three management and career coaching consulting firms; Cornell Global LLC, Pierway Associates LLC and Heroes in Transition.

In addition to the above, John serves as President of Southern CT Chapter of the Association of Talent Development, Chairs the Governance Committee of the Circle of Care, a not for profit that provides support to families with children who have cancer, and manages the Power of Three Program for the Fairfield Chapter of XPX.

John attained his Masters Degree from Boston University and a Bachelors Degree from Westminster College.